Count One is to run consecutive to Count Two, for a total of ONE HUNDRED THIRTY-ONE (131) MONTHS.

- (1) You must report to the probation office in the federal judicial district where you are authorized to reside within 72 hours of your release from imprisonment, unless the probation officer instructs you to report to a different probation office or within a different time frame.
- (2) After initially reporting to the probation office, you will receive instructions from the court or the probation officer about how and when you must report to the probation officer, and you must report to the probation officer as instructed.

- (4) You must answer truthfully the questions asked by your probation officer.

- (7) You must work full time (at least 30 hours per week) at a lawful type of employment, unless the probation officer excuses you from doing so. If you do not have full-time employment you must try to find full-time employment, unless the probation officer excuses you from doing so. The Court does not order a fine or costs of incarceration because the defendant does not have the financial resources or future earning capacity to pay a fine or costs of incarceration.

Pursuant to the Mandatory Victims Restitution Act of 1996, the defendant is ordered to pay restitution in the amount of $1,344.80, payable to the U.S. District Clerk, 501 West 10th Street, Room 310, Fort Worth, Texas 76102. If, upon commencement of the term of supervised release, any part of the $1,344.80 restitution ordered by this judgment remains unpaid, the defendant shall make payments on such unpaid amount at the rate of at least $25 per month, until the restitution amount is paid in full. Payment shall begin no later than 60 days after the defendant's release from confinement and shall continue each month thereafter until the balance is paid in full. In addition, at least 50 percent of the receipts received from gifts, tax returns, inheritances, bonuses, lawsuit awards, and any other receipt if money shall be paid toward the unpaid balance within 15 days of receipt.
